

Going to school

By: Beth Morettini, Speech Therapist/AAC
Jefferson Parish Public Schools

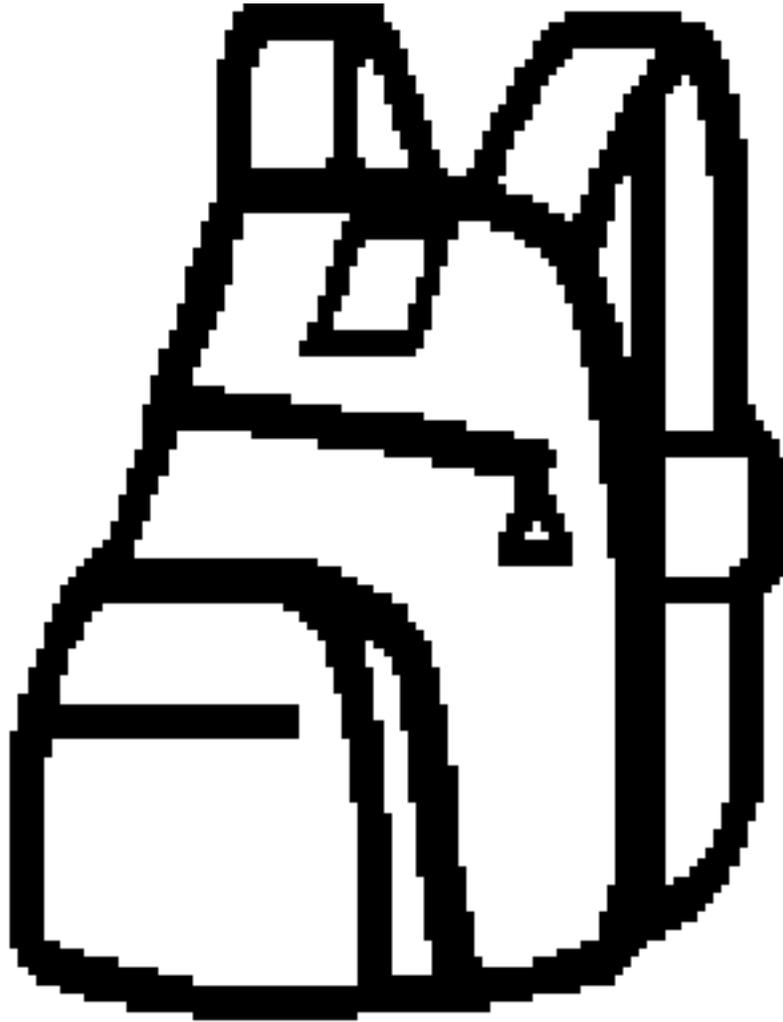

Symbols used are from Boardmaker copyright 1990-2002 and are used with permission from Mayer-Johnson P.O. Box 1579, Solana Beach, CA 92075 U. S.

Sammy is packing his school bag

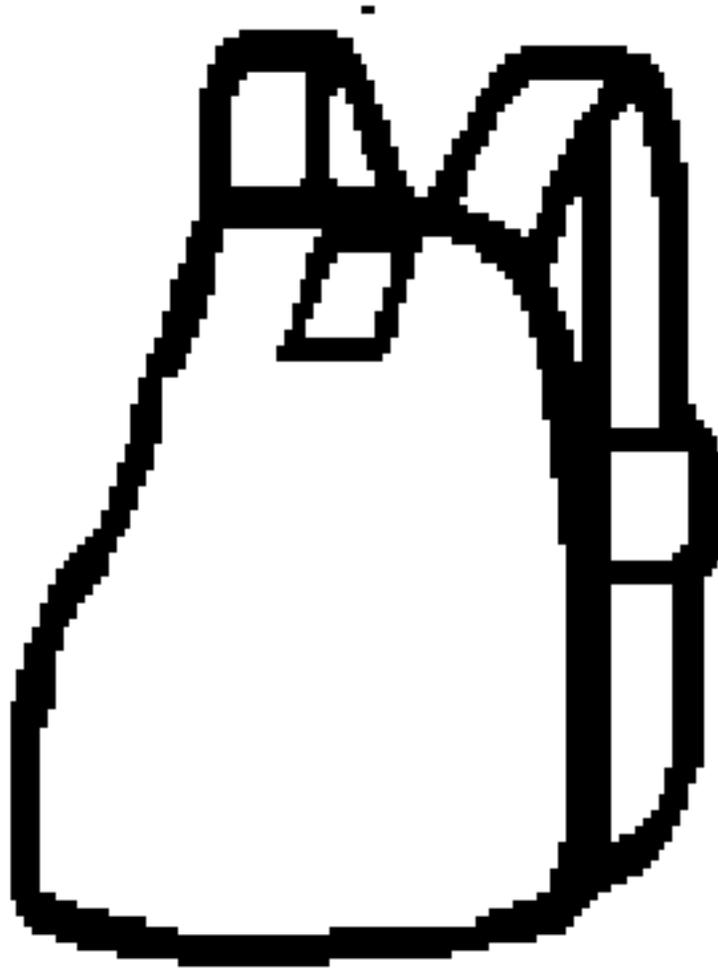

to go to school.

Sammy is packing a school bag,

to go to school.

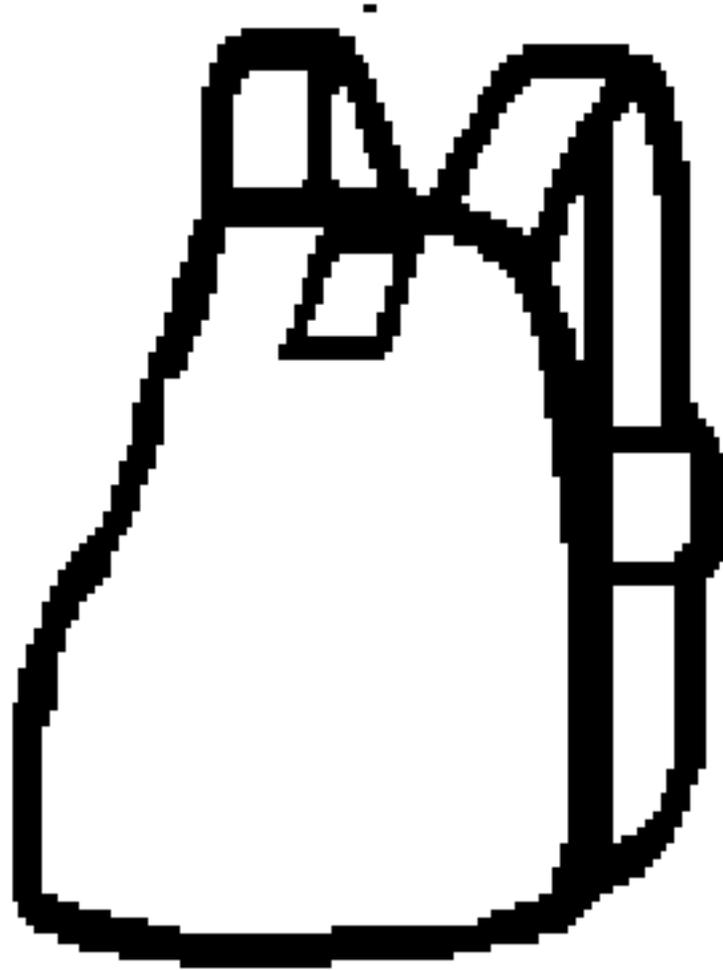

Sammy is packing a folder,

to go to school.

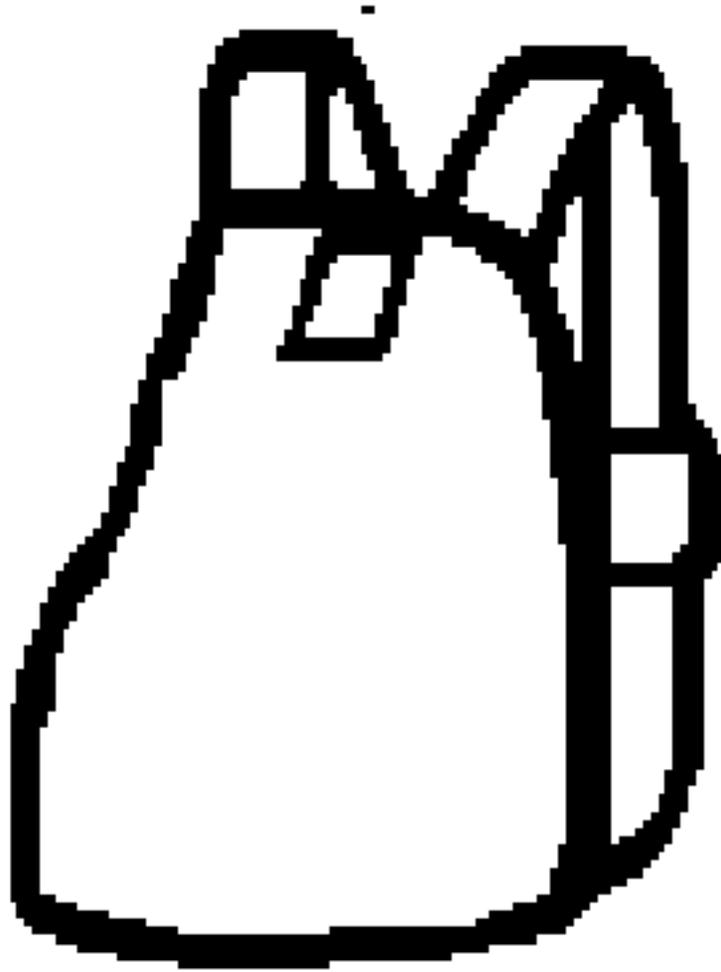

Sammy is packing a notebook,

to go to school.

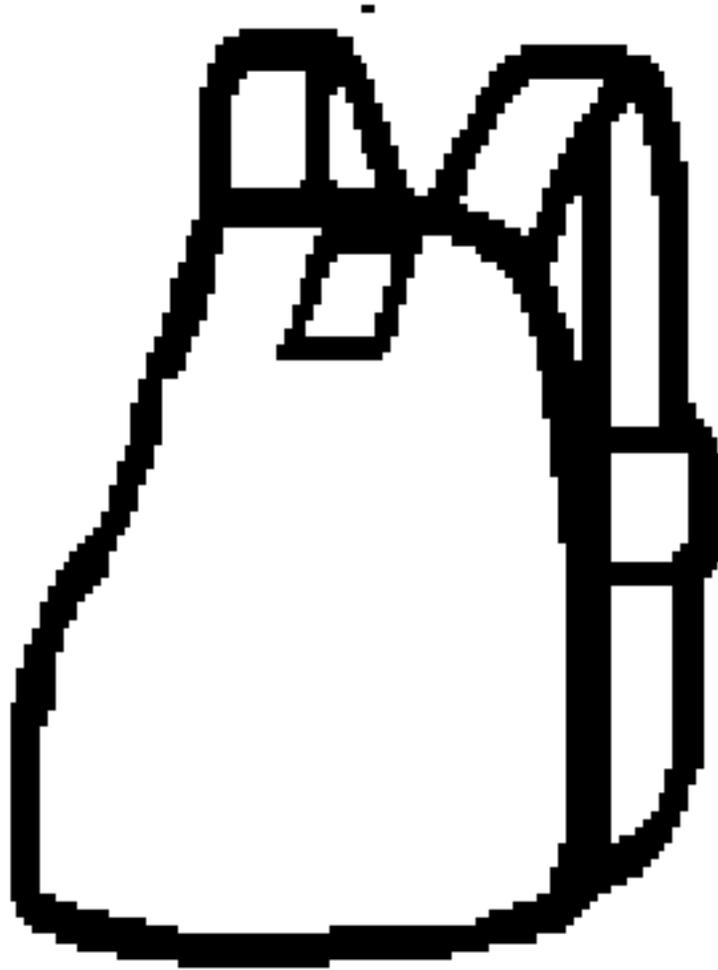

Sammy is packing a book,

to go to school.

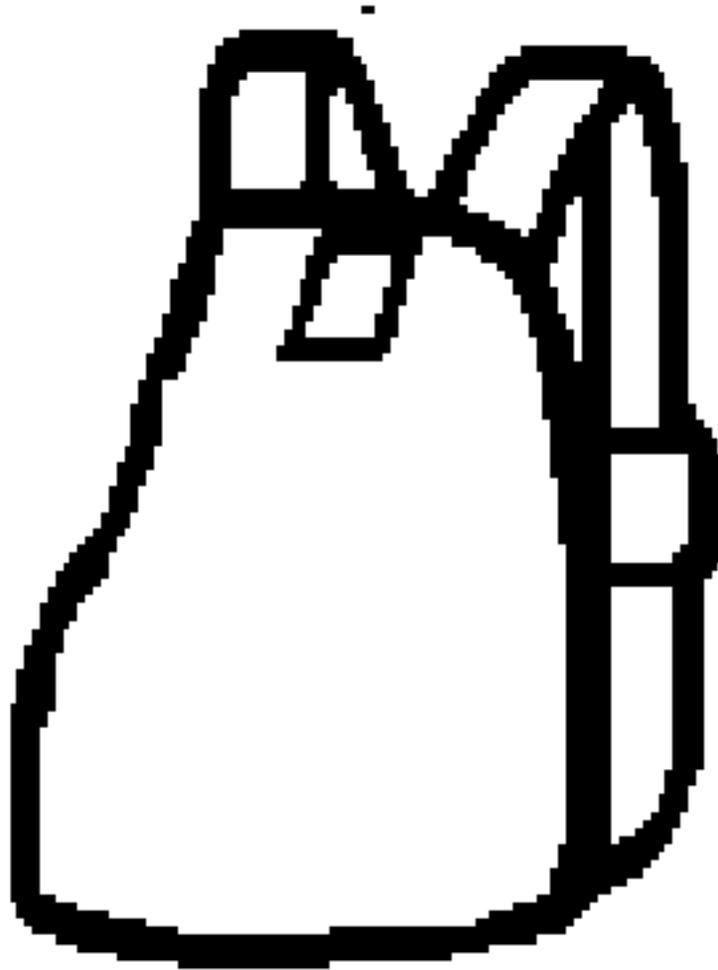

Sammy is packing a pencil,

to go to school.

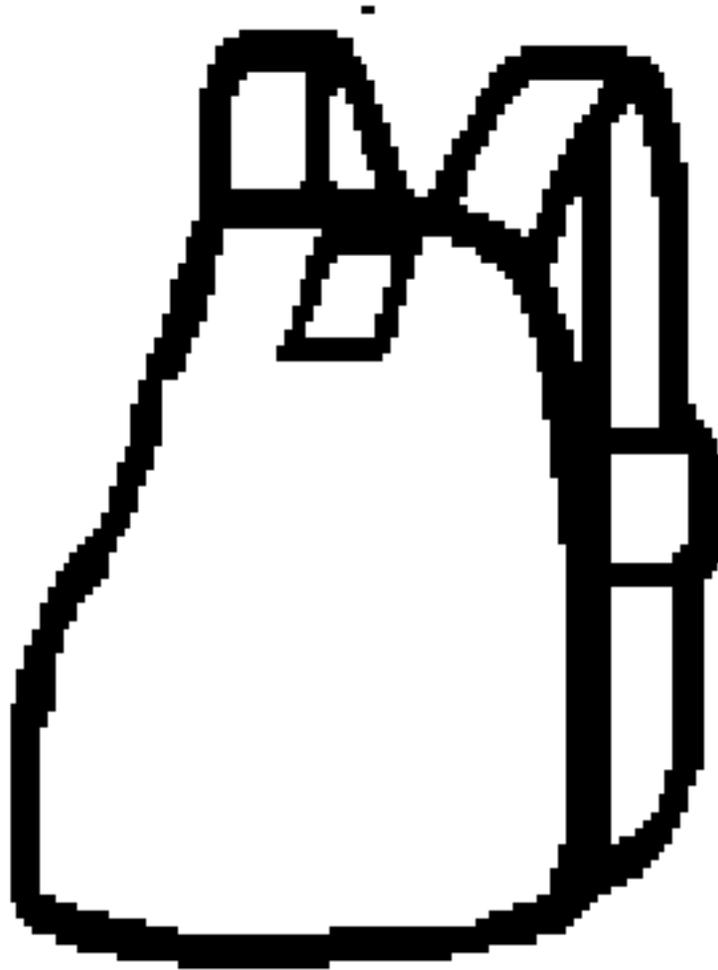

Sammy is packing colors,

to go to school.

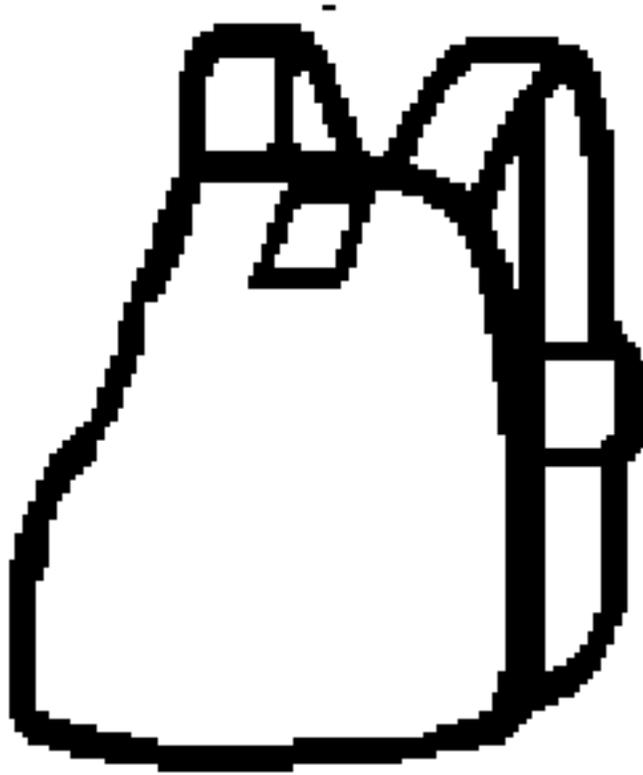

Sammy is packing paper,

to go to school.

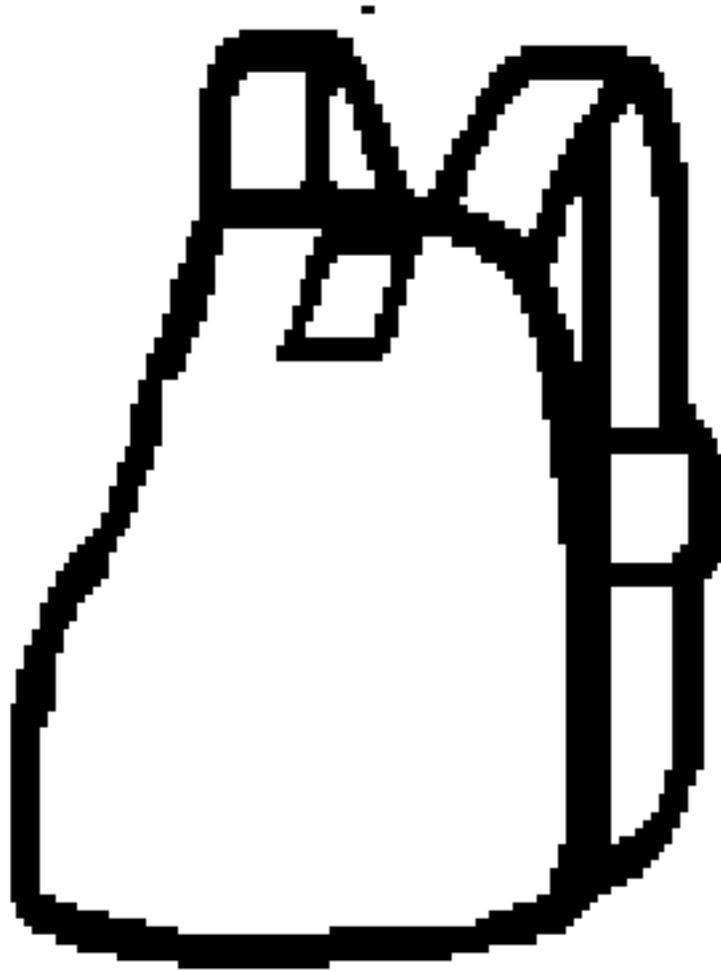

Sammy is packing lunch bag,

to go to school.

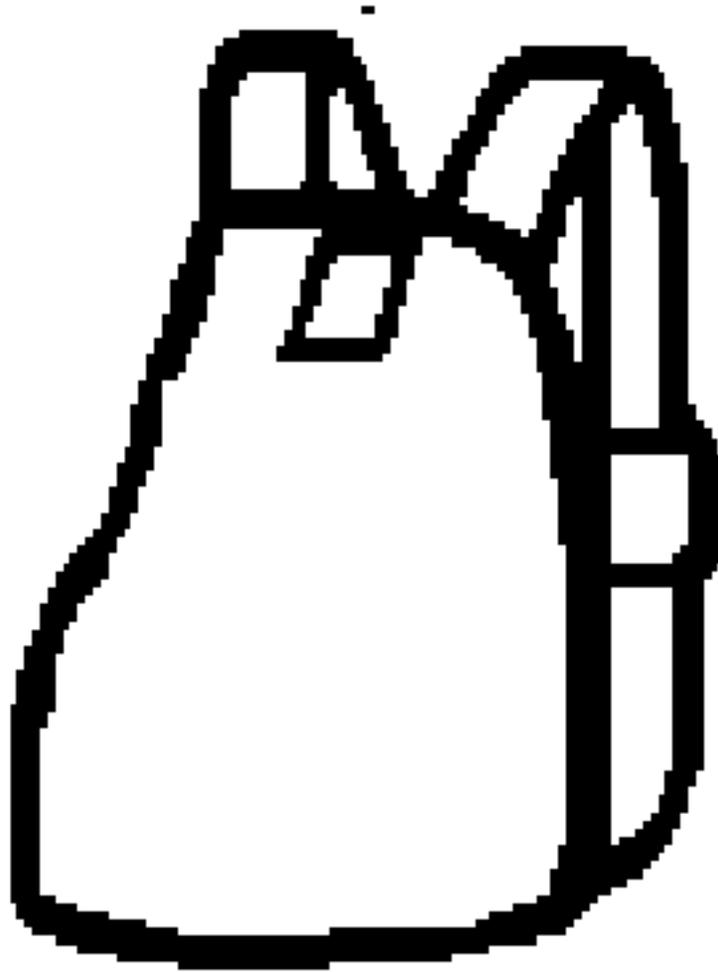

Sammy is packing a snack,

to go to school.

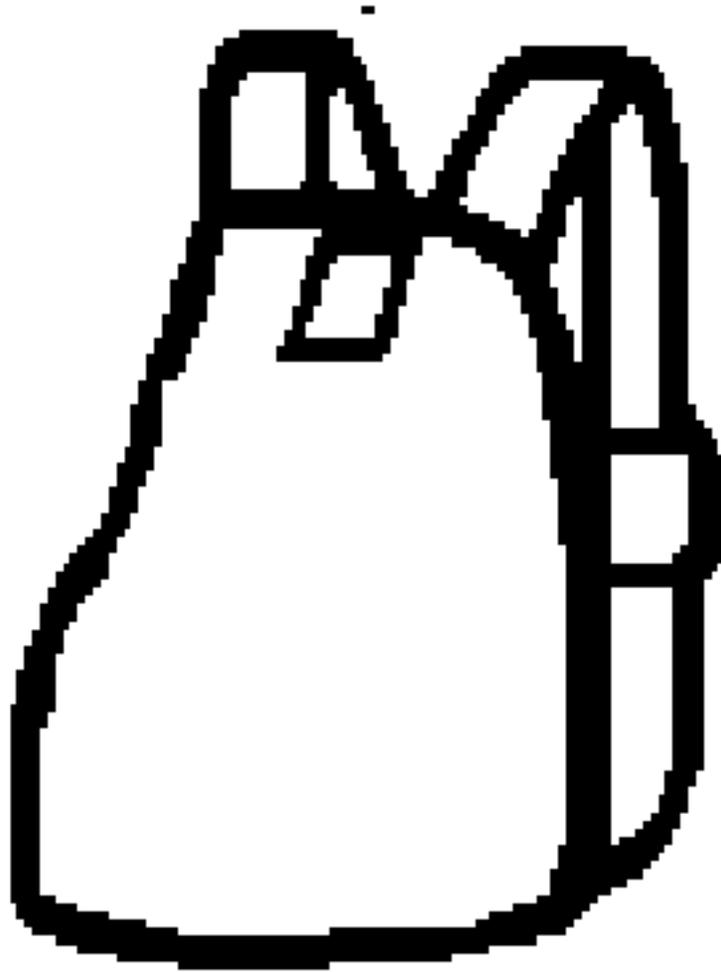

Sammy is packing a jacket,

to go to school.

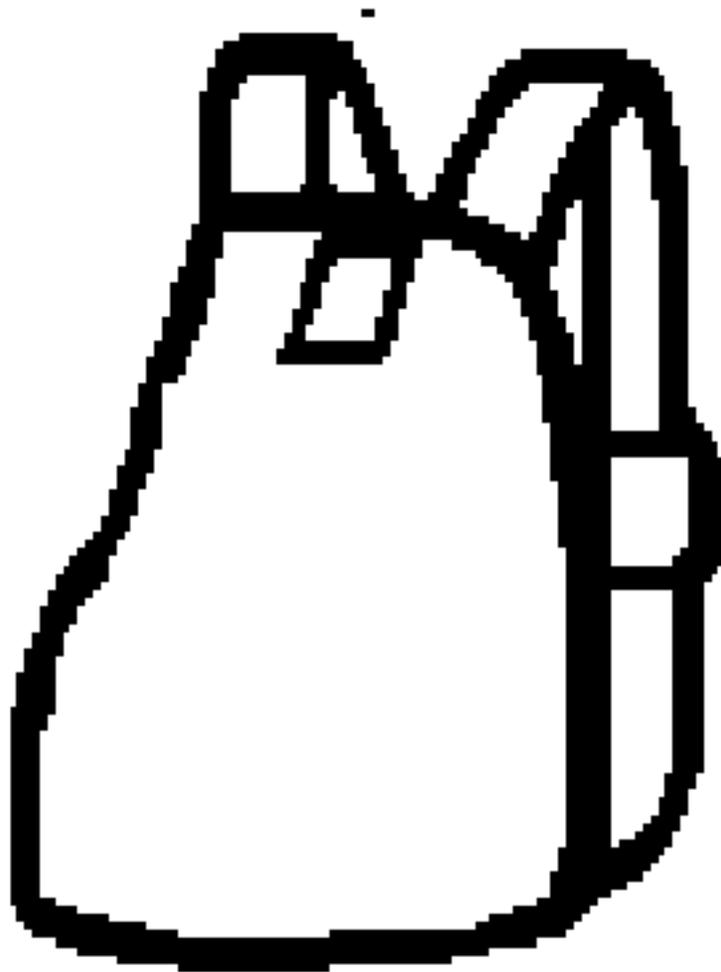

Sammy is packing a markers,

to go to school.

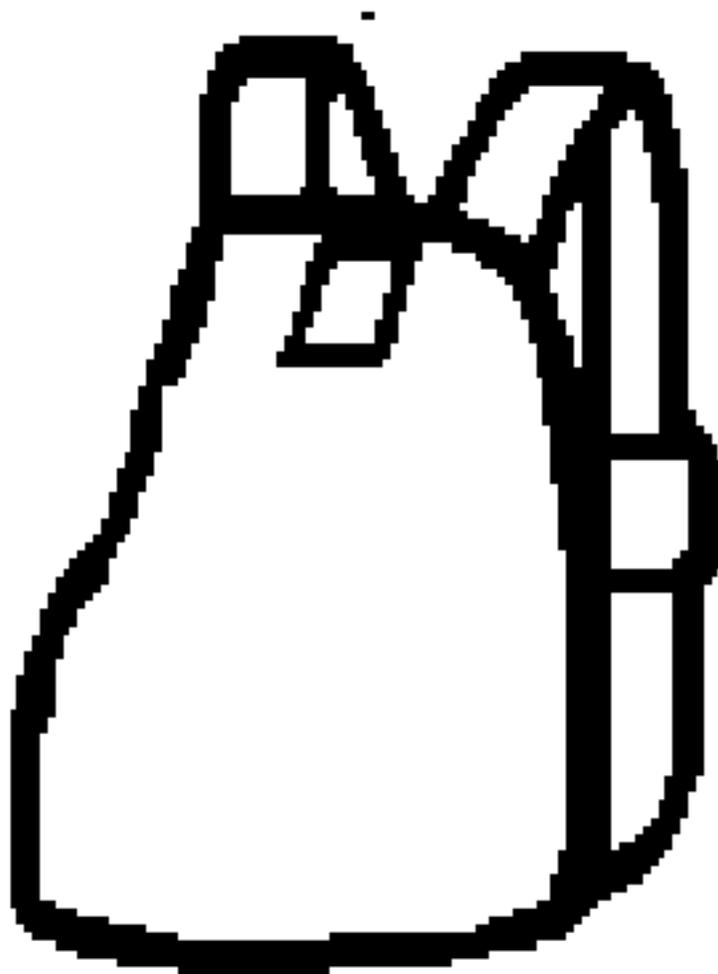

Sammy is packing glue,

to go to school.

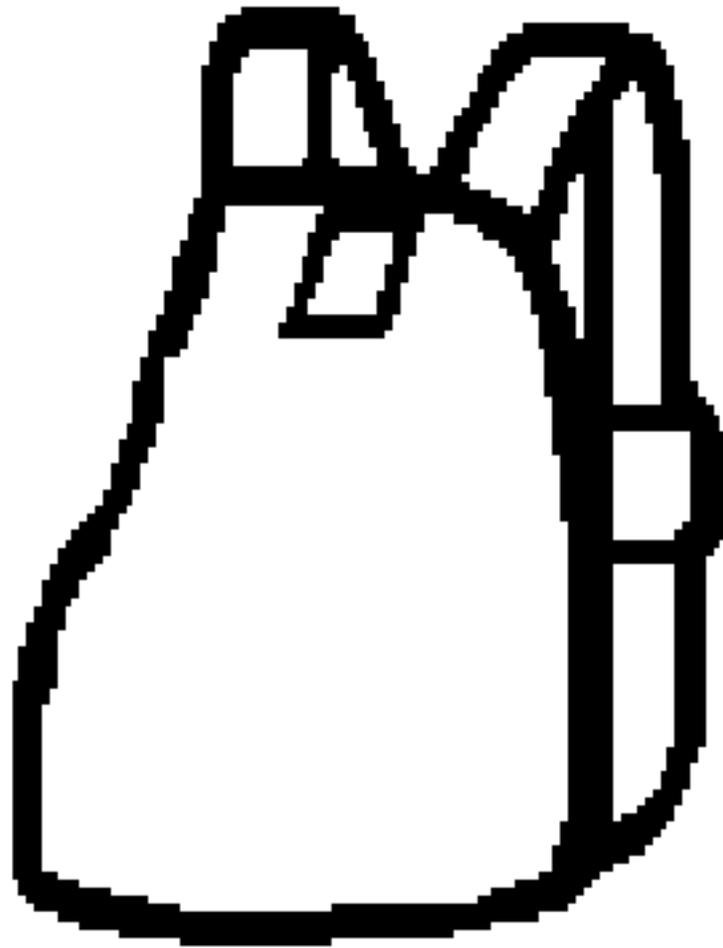

Sammy is packing scissors,

to go to school.

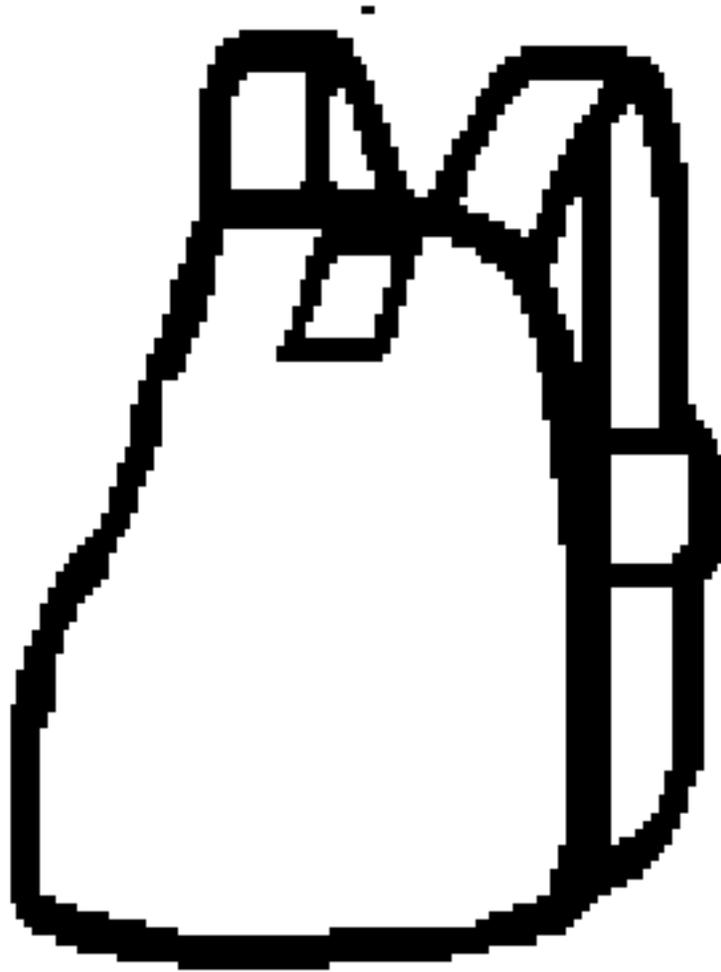

Sammy is packing kleenex,

to go to school.

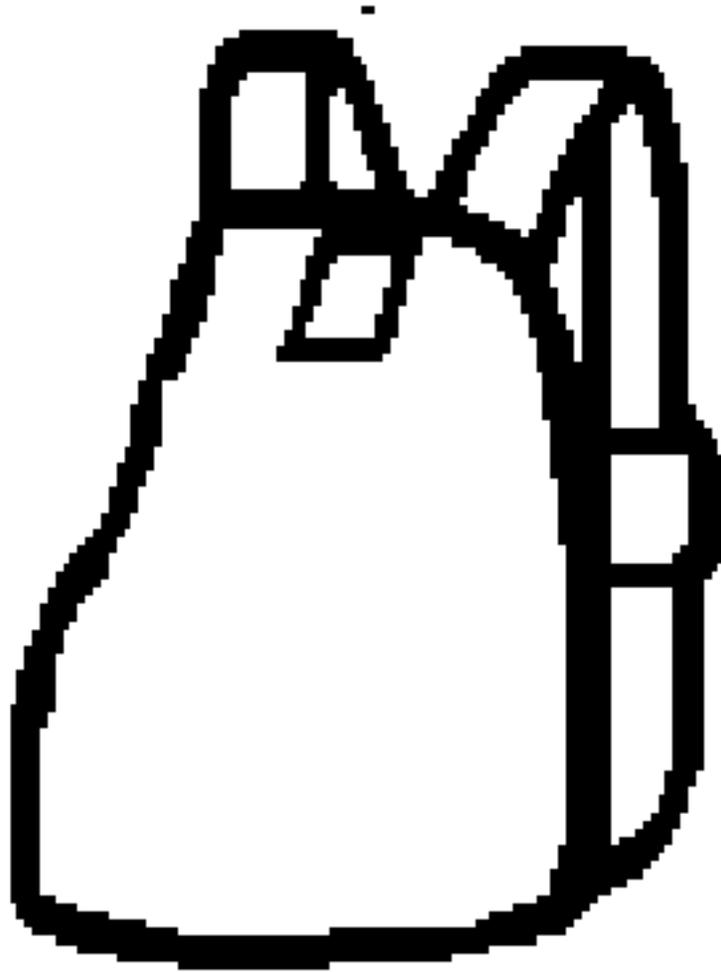

Sammy is packing rubber bands

to go to school.

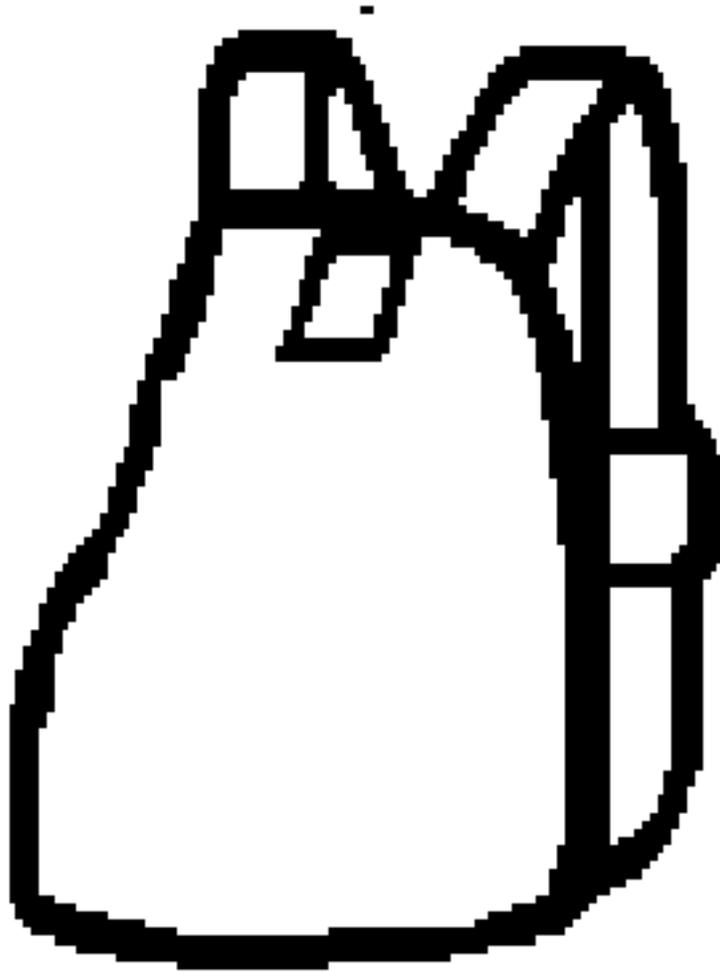

Sammy is packing paper clips

to go to school.

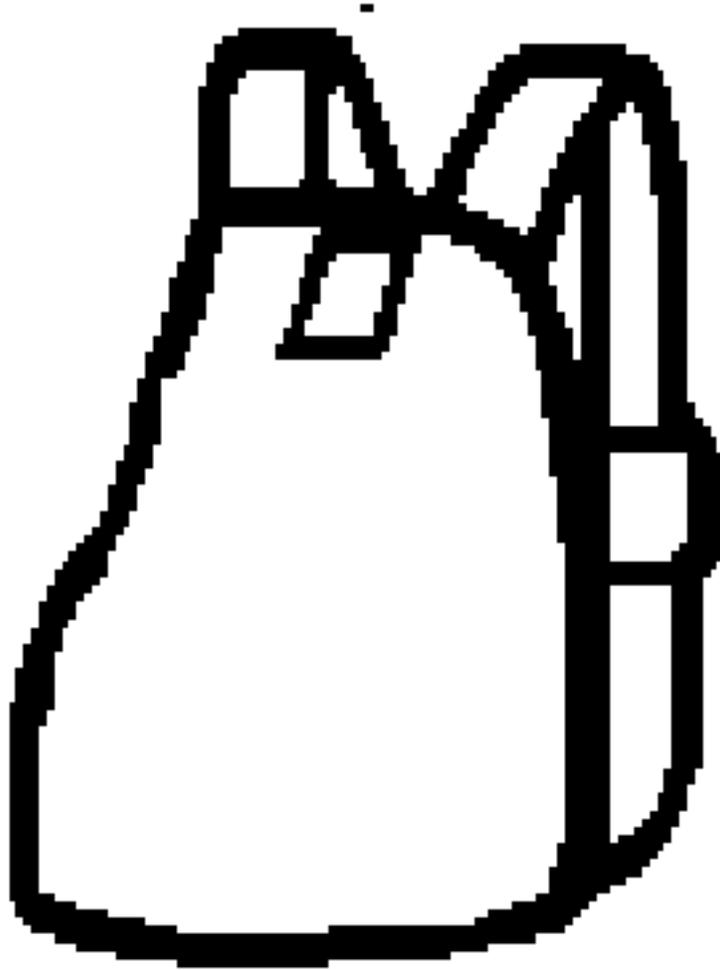

Sammy is packing tape

to go to school.

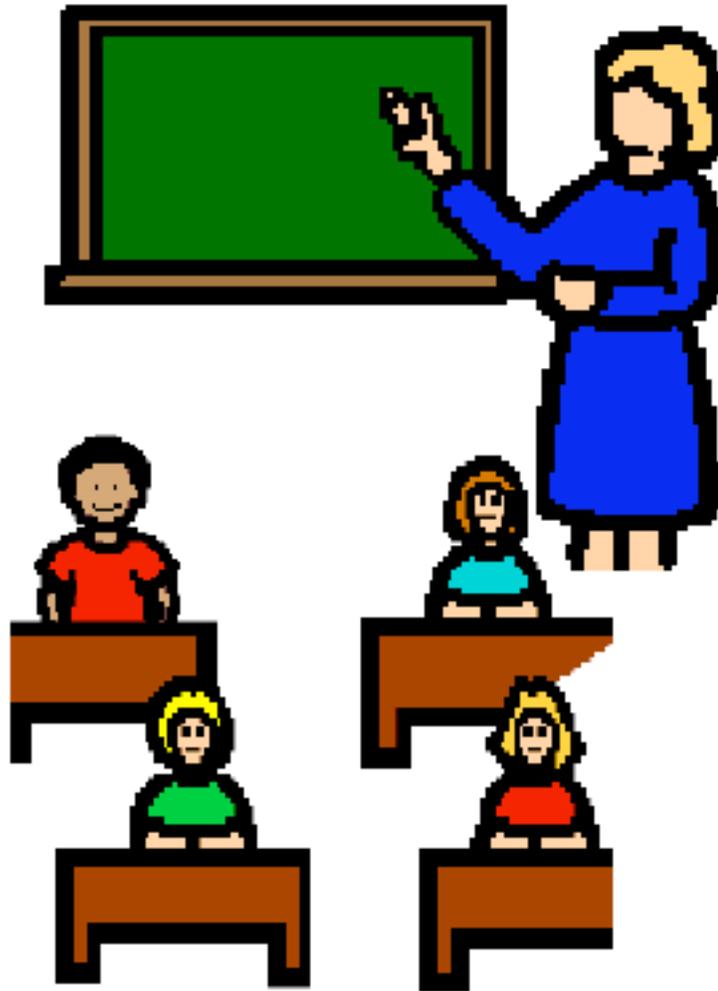

Sammy is packing pen

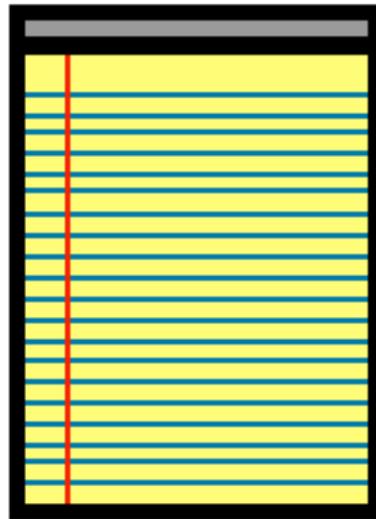

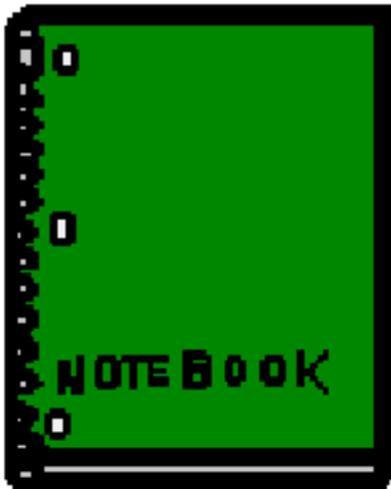

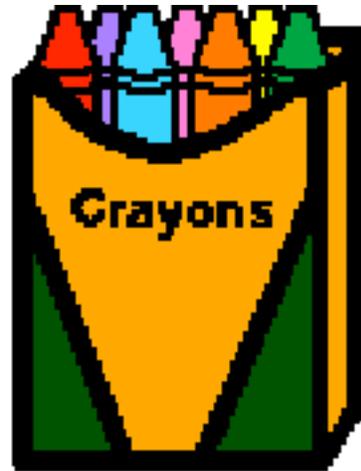

to go to school.

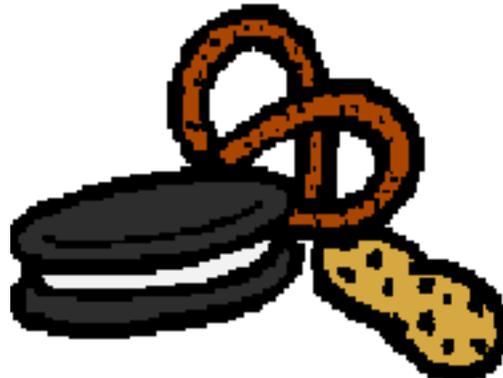

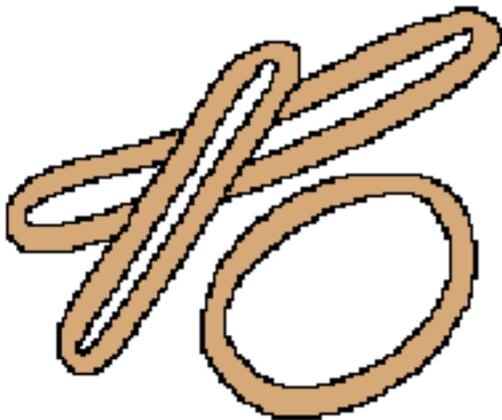

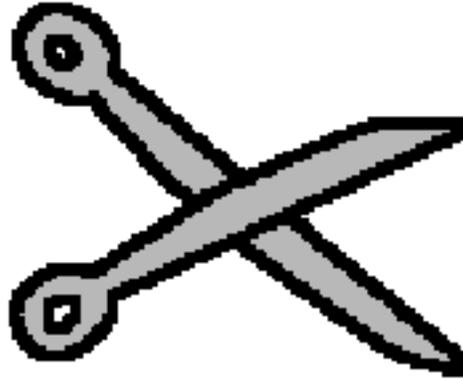

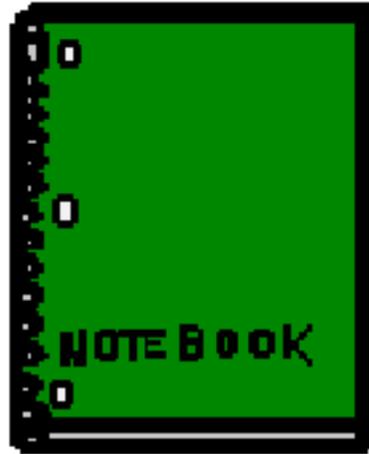

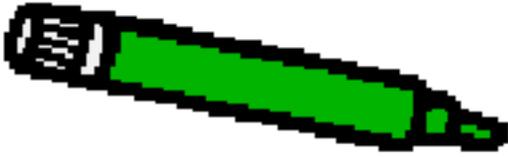

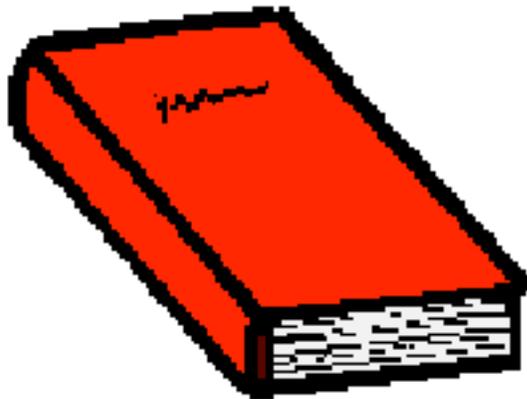

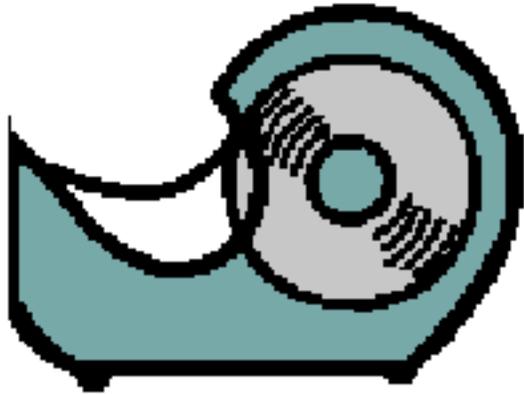

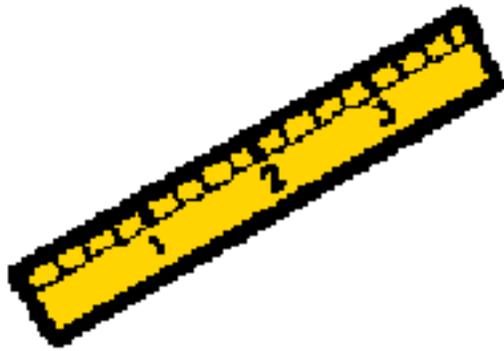

Sammy says "I'm here"

"Here at school!"

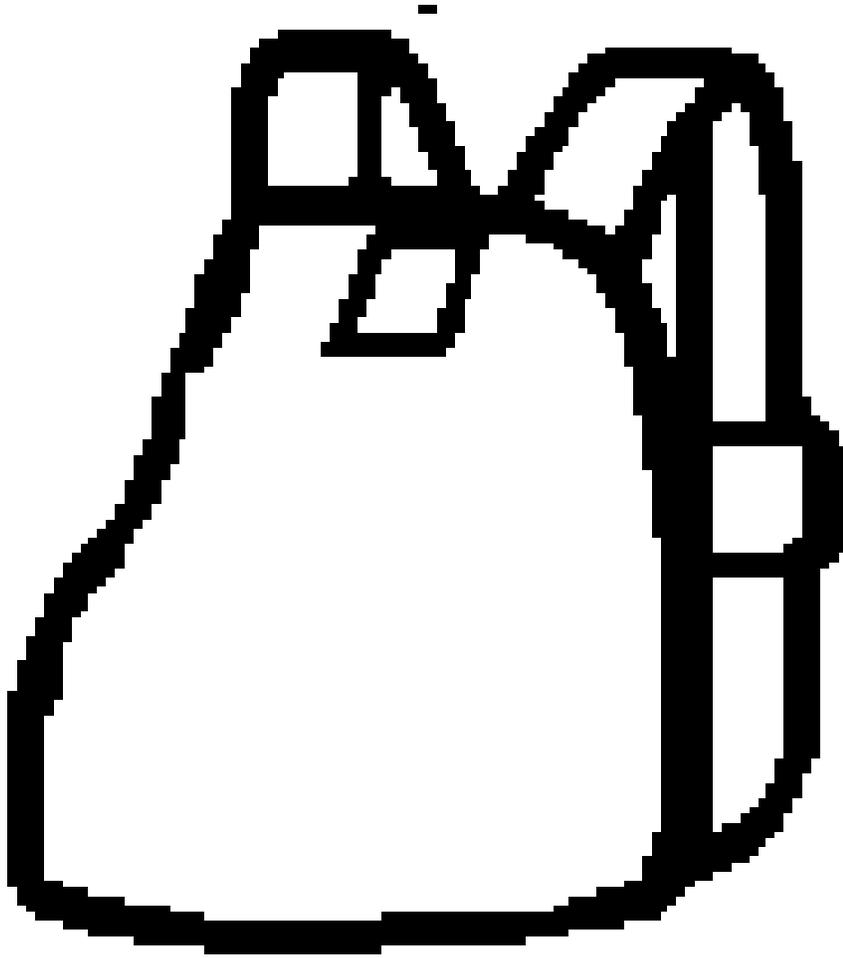

Name:

Packing a School Bag

pillow

blanket

pants

shirt

slippers

toothbrush

socks

shoes

pajamas

book

teddy bear

comb

Directions:

- print pages 1-21 and laminate
- print and laminate pages 22-24
- place a piece of velcro to the center of the school bag
- place a piece of velcro on the back of the pictures
- spread the pictures on the table and as the story is read have the child identify the item and put it on the bag.
- you can also use a real school bag with the actual items
- identify the items before reading the story
- play "I spy" in the classroom, by having the student pick a picture either from the story or from the table and find a similar item in the classroom.
- each child can check their own school bag to see what else may go into a school bag.
- repetitive phrase "to go to school" can be used on a single switch.
- using highlight tape on the repetitive phrases will help the student cue in for when they need to press the switch.